

With more than 6,300 employees in research, teaching and administration and a student body of around 34,500, TU Dortmund University shapes prospects for the future. The university's unique profile of cooperation between engineering and science and social and cultural studies drives technical innovations as well as progress in knowledge and methodology, benefiting the individual student and society as a whole.

(Post-) Doctoral Researcher (m/f/d) – Reference w16-20

The Chair for Social Structure and Sociology of Ageing Societies at the Institute for Sociology, Faculty of Education, Psychology and Sociology, is seeking to fill this fulltime position for three years, starting as soon as possible. Salary level is according to official pay scale 13 TV-L. Part-time employment is principally possible

YOUR TASKS:

- Independent quantitative research including publications in (international) high-ranking journals, involvement in project proposals and participation in national and international conferences
- Autonomous teaching (4 academic hours weekly) in the master programme "Aging Societies" and other faculty courses
- Support of the chair organization and the university self-administration at the institute and faculty level (e.g. assistant organization, participation in committees)

WE OFFER:

- An attractive job which is complemented by an excellent working environment in a very nice and research-oriented team - nationally as well as internationally

YOUR BACKGROUND :

- A very good Master's or doctor's degree in the social sciences, preferably acquired in the fields of social inequality, health, care, welfare states and/or family
- Very good knowledge of advanced quantitative methods, preferably with STATA
- Experience in working with (internationally comparative / longitudinal) microdata
- Willingness to travel and to work with international partners
- Very good organizational and communicative skills as well as very good (spoken and written) English
- Willingness to further scientific qualification (doctorate, habilitation)

People of all gender are invited to send their application.

Applications of equally qualified candidates with disabilities are particularly welcome.

If you are interested, please apply including the usual documents until 15 March 2020 via <http://karriere.tu-dortmund.de>

For further substantial information please do not hesitate to contact Prof. Dr. Martina Brandt via martina.brandt@tu-dortmund.de or Jana Dreypelcher, phone: +49 231 755 6549